THE BYGONES COLLECTION SHOWCASES GARMENTS THAT ARE ONE-OF-ONES MADE FROM VINTAGE AND FOUND FABRICS. THESE ARE IMBUED WITH A CHARACTER THAT CAN ONLY BE FOUND IN THE PASSAGE OF TIME. EVERY PIECE BECOMES AN OBJECT OF ITS OWN STORY.

Every month we produce a limited number of garments. While a certain piece exists uniquely on its own in the size it is made in, pieces in a specific colour or style can be created. These could come close but are never the same. Through Bygones, we relook at these age old fabrics from today's point-of-view and see how they can be reinterpreted. While we look at ways how we can explore fashion as a medium to tell stories of text and textile, we also question how material histories can inform future communications. Owing to the handmade nature of our products, there are subtle differences in each round of production. We acknowledge these as part and parcel of a slower way of living.

+ VINTAGE KANTHA GARMENTS

Kantha quilts are crafted from repurposed saris and fabrics and feature repairs, darning, and patchwork. These unique details not only add character but ensure durable, one-of-a-kind garments with a rich up-cycling heritage. We embrace the distressed patches alongside the intricate stitch work in the most unlikely colours.
